

A primer on copulas for count data

Christian GENEST

Département de Mathématiques et de Statistique
Universit Laval
Pavillon Alexandre-Vachon
Québec (Québec), G1K 7P4
Canada
`Christian.Genest@mat.ulaval.ca`

Abstract

Various facts will be reviewed about copulas linking discrete distributions. It will be shown that the possibility of ties resulting from atoms in the probability distribution invalidates various familiar relations that lie at the root of copula theory in the continuous case. The talk will highlight some of the dangers and limitations of indiscriminating transposition of modeling and inference practices from the continuous setting to the discrete one.