

Approaches to Teaching Shakespeare's Hamlet

---

Edited by

Bernice W. Kliman

---

The Modern Language Association of America
New York 2002

CONTENTS

Preface to the Series	xi
Preface to the Volume	xiii
PART ONE: MATERIALS Bernice W. Kliman
Introduction	3
Editions	3
Single-Play Editions for Students	4
Single-Play Editions for Instructors and Advanced Students	6
Complete Works	7
Anthologies	9
The Student's and Instructor's Library	9
References and Guides	10
Criticism	11
Aids to Teaching	12
An Annotated and Chronological Screenography: Major Hamlet Adaptations and Selected Derivatives	14
Kenneth S. Rothwell
PART TWO: APPROACHES
Introduction	31
Introducing Verse and Meter
Hearing the Poetry	41
George T. Wright
Dancing the Meter	48
Ellen J. O'Brien
The Multiple-Text Hamlet
"The Play's the Thing": Constructing the Text of Hamlet	52
T. H. Howard-Hill
An Editing Exercise for Students	57
Randall Anderson
Teaching with a Variorum Edition	62
Frank Nicholas Clary
Teaching Hamlet through Translation	66
Jesús Tronch-Pérez

Performance Approaches

- Exploring Hamlet: Opening Play Texts, Closing Performances 73
Edward L. Rocklin
- To Challenge Ghostly Fathers: Teaching Hamlet and Its
 Interpretations through Film and Video 77
Stephen M. Buhler
- Critical Practice through Performance: The Nunnery
 and Play Scenes 81
Mary Judith Dunbar
- Teaching the Script: The “Mousetrap” in the Classroom 86
Michael W. Shurgot

X Narrative, Character, and Theme

- Hamlet*’s Narratives 90
Arthur F. Kinney
- From Story to Action: A Graduated Exercise to Teach Hamlet 95
Nina daVinci Nichols
- A World of Questions: An Approach Indebted to Maynard Mack 97
Robert H. Ray
- “That Monster Custom”: Highlighting the Theme of Obedience in Hamlet 102
Joan Hutton Landis
- Teaching Hamlet as a Play about Family 107
Bruce W. Young
- Ten Questions Basic to Interpreting Hamlet, with Special Focus on the Ghost 113
Roy Battenhouse

Comparative Approaches

- The “Encrusted” Hamlet: Resetting the “Mousetrap” 118
Graham Bradshaw
- Teaching Hamlet in a Global Literature Survey:
 Linking Elizabethan England and Ming China 129
Paula S. Berggren
- Hamlet* in a Western Civilization Course: Connections to Montaigne’s Essays and Cervantes’s Don Quixote 134
Ann W. Engar
- The Pyrrhus Speech: Querying the Uses of the Troy Story 138
Lisa Hopkins

- From Elsinore to Mangalore and Back: Hamlet between Worlds 141
Ralph Nazareth

Modern and Postmodern Strategies

- The Gertrude Barometer: Teaching Shakespeare with Freud, Eliot, and Lacan 146
Julia Reinhard Lupton
- “She Chanted Snatches of Old Tunes”: Ophelia’s Songs
 in a Polyphonic Hamlet 153
Nona Paula Fienberg
- Decentering Hamlet: Questions and Perspectives
 Concerning Evidence and Proof 157
Terry Reilly
- More than Child’s Play: Approaching Hamlet
 through Comic Books 161
Marion D. Perret
- Hamlet and Sylvia, Shakespeare and Bambara:
 Reading Hamlet as Context 165
Mary S. Comfort

Focus on Scenes

- Act 1, Scene 3: An Introduction to Hamlet 170
Michael J. Collins
- Act 2, Scene 1, 75–120: Psychoanalytic Approaches 174
H. R. Coursen
- The Closet-Scene Access 180
Maurice Charney
- Language, Structure, and Ideology: Act 4, Scene 5 184
John Drakakis
- The Fencing Scene 191
Laurie E. Maguire
- Shaping Our Ends: A Workshop on the Last Scene 197
Arthur Kincaid

Hamlet Online

- The Prince of Punk in the Festive Classroom 201
James R. Andreas Sr.
- An Interdisciplinary Approach to Hamlet in a Distance-Learning Classroom 206
Anthony DiMatteo

E-Mail to Facilitate Discussion Eric Sterling	211
Short Takes
Hamlet Refracted through Three Definitions of Tragedy David G. Hale	214
Francis Bacon's "Of Revenge" Margaret Maurer	216
Introducing Students to Effective Refutation Joanne E. Gates	216
Believing and Doubting Ideas about Hamlet Meta Plotnik	218
Students as Characters, Speaking in Character Christine Mack Gordon	219
Two Ways to Use Film for Student Writing Rob Kirkpatrick	219
Hamlet Is Not Mad D. Buchanan	221
Defamiliarizing Hamlet : Hamlet with and without His Soliloquies Barbara Hodgdon	222
Helping Chinese Students Study Hamlet Luo Zhiye	223
Oral Reports on Criticism Edna Zwick Boris	224
Teaching Text and Performance through Soundscripting Michael W. Young	226
More Matter (but Not Necessarily Less Art): Using My Coloring Book to Introduce Seventh Graders to Hamlet Denise M. Mullins	227
Priming Questions for the "Mousetrap" Bente Videbaek	230
Puns and Wordplay in Hamlet Paul J. Voss	231
Leaping into the Text: Teaching Stage Directions in Act 5, Scene 1 Hardin L. Aasand	232
Groups Debating Issues David George	233
Existential Questions Alan R. Young	234

Words, Words, Words: Comparing, Cutting, Explaining Nathaniel Strout	235
Hamlet and Subjectivity Dympna Callaghan	236
Epilogue
Cheating Death: The Immortal and Ever-Expanding Universe of Hamlet Maria M. Scott	239
Notes on Contributors	245
Survey Participants	253
Works Cited and Materials for Further Study
Editions	255
Single-Play Editions	255
Complete Works	256
Anthologies	256
References and Guides	257
Criticism	262
Aids to Teaching	273
Works on Teaching	273
Shakespeare on Screen	275
Special Editions, Comic Books, School Guides, Audio Performances	278
Journals	279
Web Sites	279
Resources for Comparison and Illustration	280
Index of Names	283
Index of Scenes in Hamlet	289
Index of Characters in Hamlet, Other Than Hamlet	291