Progress Report

Project A-3739

December 1983 and January, February 1984

The major work of updating the values in the Building Guide to Energy Efficient Homes was accomplished in December and January. The corrected text was transmitted to OER in early February. The two diagrams which required redrafting were forwarded in February. The remaining work to be accomplished in March is the production of slides from the newly typeset text when it is available from OER.

This letter serves as a final report on Project A-3739, "A Builders Guide to Energy Efficient Homes--1984 Update." By the end of March, we will have completed all contractual requirements, including revision of the manual, production of revised artwork, proofreading the typeset copy, and production of new slides from updated copy. These items meet or exceed the requirements set forth in the scope of work in the contract.

I have enjoyed working on this project with you and appreciate your continued support of this work in energy conservation.

Sincerely,
