

Managing in a Time of Great Change

Peter F. Drucker

Harvard Business Press
Boston, Massachusetts

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
Acknowledgments	xi
Interview: The Post-Capitalist Executive	xiii

Part I Management

ONE	The Theory of the Business	3
TWO	Planning for Uncertainty	19
THREE	The Five Deadly Business Sins	25
FOUR	Managing the Family Business	31
FIVE	Six Rules for Presidents	37
SIX	Managing in the Network Society	43

Part II The Information-Based Organization

SEVEN	The New Society of Organizations	53
EIGHT	There Are Three Kinds of Teams	71
NINE	The Information Revolution in Retail	77

TEN	Be Data Literate; Know What to Know	83
ELEVEN	We Need to Measure, Not Count	89
TWELVE	The Information Executives Need Today	93
Part III The Economy
THIRTEEN	Trade Lessons from the World Economy	113
FOURTEEN	The U.S. Economy's Power Shift	133
FIFTEEN	Where the New Markets Are	139
SIXTEEN	The Pacific Rim and the World Economy	145
SEVENTEEN	China's Growth Markets	149
EIGHTEEN	The End of Japan, Inc.?	155
NINETEEN	A Weak Dollar Strengthens Japan	163
TWENTY	The New Superpower: The Overseas Chinese	169
Part IV The Society
TWENTY-ONE	A Century of Social Transformation	177
TWENTY-TWO	It Profits Us to Strengthen Nonprofits	231
TWENTY-THREE	Knowledge Work and Gender Roles	237
TWENTY-FOUR	Reinventing Government	241
TWENTY-FIVE	Can the Democracies Win the Peace?	261
	Conclusion	289
	Interview: Managing in a Post-Capitalist Society	291
	Index	301