List of Figures	ix
List of Tables	xi
Preface	xiii
Acknowledgments	xix
List of Note Abbreviations	xxi
CHAPTER 1
Modern Chemistry Is in Need of Reform	3
Chemistry and the Cartography of Science	6
Chemistry in the Minor Key: Physicalist Traditions in Nineteenth-Century Chemistry	11
Ambitions and Ideas Convergent: Ostwald, van't Hoff, and Arrhenius	20
The New Chemistry of the Ionists	39
CHAPTER 2
Physical Chemistry from Europe to America	46
The Diffusion of Physical Chemistry	46
Ostwald and the Americans	53
Charting the Expansion of the Discipline	70
American Graduate Centers	74
Why Physical Chemistry Prospered in America	87
CHAPTER 3
King Arthur's Court: Arthur A. Noyes and the Research Laboratory of Physical Chemistry	100
Poverty and Promise: Boston Tech at Century's End	100
The Makings of a Physical Chemist: Arthur Amos Noyes at Newburyport and MIT	103
A Massachusetts Yankee Builds a Court	110
From Processes to Structures: The Anomaly of Strong Electrolytes and the Problem of the Chemical Bond	120
Chemical Thermodynamics: From Activities to a Table of Free Energies	138
The Research Laboratory of Physical Chemistry in Retrospect	150

CHAPTER 4

The Phase Ruler: Wilder D. Bancroft and His Agenda for Physical Chemistry	156
Wilder Bancroft: Gentleman Chemist	159
Bancroft at Cornell	163
Bancroft's Conception of Physical Chemistry	168
The Appeal of the Phase Rule	174
The Use and Abuse of the Phase Rule	183
Bancroft Redux	194

CHAPTER 5

Physical Chemistry in the "New World of Science"	202
The Integration of Science and the Industrial Order	204
The Integration of Physical Chemistry and Other Sciences	220
The Integration of Physical Chemistry into the University: Chemistry at California	238

CHAPTER 6

From Physical Chemistry to Chemical Physics	251
The Once and Future King: A. A. Noyes from MIT to CIT	253
Chemical Engineers, Physical Chemists, and the Struggle for MIT	254
Caltech: From Base Camp to Temple	263
Chemistry at Caltech	269
Linus Pauling: From Student to Teacher	275

CHAPTER 7

A Dissenter's Decline	299
From Phase Ruler to Colloid Chemist	300
Bancroft's Journal and American Physical Chemists	308
The End of Bancroft's Editorship and the Birth of the Journal of Chemical Physics	315
Bancroft and the Traditions of Physical Chemistry	321
