Congratulations on your work; very interesting topic and a well-written article.

I only have a few suggestions.

All abbreviations should be written in their whole meaning when they appear for the first time in the text.

At the end of the introduction, it would not be bad to insert the paper organization paragraph.

I suggest that the workflow, that is, the methodology, should also be presented graphically so that the readers can more easily visualize the conducted research. The work will thus also have a graphic component.

State the limitations of the research and possible directions for future research.
