

Review of: "[Commentary] It seems that after years, the norms related to children's behavior need to be revised"

Mohammad Reza Mohammadi<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Tehran University of Medical Sciences

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The title of the commentary should be change to:

It seems that after years, the norms related to children's milestone need to be revised.

It is not the scientific paper, but rather an opinion. The first, it need to study and then to revise developmental data for children's acquisition of developmental milestones. It presents some idea and is not a research paper but some opinion to suggest the need for the new norms.

It should take into account for new studies. This commentary would be appropriate for the milestone after many studies in many cultures and countries. The commentary must include references from new studies. The studies have many details of the official tests for children's milestone and cognitive assessments and evaluation, the commentary should summaries some ideas for the best practice and give the new references.