Introduction — 1

I Propositions

Chapter 1

Signs Conveying Information

On the Range of Peirce's Notion of Propositions: Dicisigns — 7

Central Properties of Dicisigns — 8

Varieties of Dicisigns — 11

Road Dicisigns as an Example — 16

Biosemiotic Dicisigns — 17

Adaptation to Dicisigns — 22

Chapter 2

Dicisigns and Habits

Implicit Propositions and Habit-Taking in Peirce's Pragmatism — 23

Aspects of Habits — 24

Habits in the Pragmatic Maxim — 24

Habit, Continuity, and Realism — 26

Acquired Habits, Innate Habits, Laws — 29

Habit Straddling the Unconscious/Conscious Distinction — 34

Self-Control and Consciousness — 38

The Status of the Final Action Habit—A Proposition or Not? — 40

Habits and Dicisigns Revisited — 41

Chapter 3

Peirce's Theories of Assertion — 43

Assertion from Colloquial to Technical Term — 43

Assertion as the Proposition Sign's Self-Reference — 47

Assertion as Assumption of Responsibility — 49

Assertion as Persuasion — 52

The Role of Conscious Deliberation — 54

Everyday and Scientific Assertions — 57

The Scope of Assertive Responsibility — 58

Assertions in the Social Field — 61

Chapter 4

The Identity of Sweet Molly Malone

Dicent Indexical Legisigns—A New Element in the Periodic Table of Semiotics? — 62

Predictions of the Sign Combination Strategy of the 1903

Syllabus — 62

The Riddle of Dicent Indexical Legisigns — 64

Pragmatic Roles and Purposes of Dicent Indexical Legisigns — 68

Chapter 5

Co-localization as the Syntax of Multimodal Propositions

An Amazing Peircean Idea and Some Implications for the Semiotics of Truth — 70

The Syntax of Propositions — 71

What Kind of Sign is Co-localization Syntax? — 77

Labels — 80

Co-localization Syntax in Early Human Semiotics — 83

Co-localization in Comics and Diagrams — 87

Framing—The Topological Character of Co-Localization — 92

Co-localization and Linguistics — 101

Co-localization in Biosemiotics — 103

The Ontology of Propositional Truth — 107

Chapter 6

Sheets in the Wild

A First Overview over Types of Propositional Surfaces — 110

Sheets of Assertion — 110

A Few Examples of Sheets — 111

Posters—Serious and Satirical — 116

Types of Sheets of Assertions — 119

II Iconicity and Diagrams

Chapter 7

How Do Pictures Act?

Two Semiotic Aspects of Picture Activity — 123

Silk Print of a Silk Weaver — 125

Threatening Pictures — 125

Implicit Information — 128

Chapter 8

Dimensions of Peircean Diagrammaticality — 131

From the 1885 “Algebra of Logic” to the 1903 Image-Diagram-Metaphor Trichotomy — 131

Operational vs. Optimal Iconicity — 136

Diagram Tokens vs. Diagram Types — 138

Diagrams as General Signs and as Conclusions of Arguments — 139

Levels of Generality in Diagrams — 144

Diagram Experiments vs. Real Experiments — 145

Generic and Degenerate Diagrams — 146

Explicit vs. Implicit Diagrams — 147

Co-localization — 148

Corollarial vs. Theorematic Diagram Reasoning—Explicit vs. Implicit Meanings of Diagrams — 150

Logic Diagrams vs. Diagrams Facilitating Logical Inferences — 152

Pure vs. Applied Diagrams — 155

Continuous vs. Discontinuous Diagrams: Are Parts of a Diagram also Diagrams? — 156

Linear vs. Multidimensional Diagrams — 157

Diagrams in Non-Necessary Inferences — 158

Diagrams in Peirce’s Mature Semiotics — 160

Chapter 9

Iconicity of Logic—And the Roots of the “Iconicity” Concept — 162

Peircean Iconicity — 163

Iconicity in Logic Formalizations — 164

The Algebra of Logic — 165

The Existential Graphs — 167

Beta Graphs — 170

Lines of Identity — 171

Iconicity in Existential Graphs vs. Linear Notation — 173

The Birth of Iconicity — 177

Chapter 10

Diagrammatic Problem Solving (with Svend Østergaard) — 179

Information Internal or External to the Problem Space — 180

Types of Insight Problems — 182

Diagrammatic Re-description and Diagrammatic Re-encoding — 186

A Special Case: The Cog Wheel Experiment — 187

Cog Wheel Lessons — 188

Solution Strategies — 191

Embodiment and Collaboration—Two Hypotheses — 193

Chapter 11

Schematic Aspects of an Aesthetics of Diagrams — 196

Diagrammatic Perception — 196

Further Diagrammatization — 197

Externalized Diagrams — 197

Diagram Inferences — 200

Multimodal Diagrams — 200

Potential Aesthetic Qualities of Diagrams — 202

III Semiotics and Metaphysics

Chapter 12

Peirce as a Truthmaker Realist

Propositional Realism as Backbone of Peircean Metaphysics — 211

The Basic Kantian Argument — 211

Predicate Realism — 213

Subject Realism — 214

Representation Realism — 214

Realism of Indefinite Inquiry — 216

Extrapolating from Propositions: Deducing Metaphysical Realism from Semiotic Investigation — 217

Chapter 13

Phenomenology and Logic in Peirce — 219

Phenomenology among the Sciences — 219

The Road from Logic to Metaphysics — 221

From Logic to Phenomenology — 226

Methods and Findings of Phenomenology — 229

Plurality of Paths to the Phaneron — 233

Chapter 14

A Peirce for the 21 Century

Theoretical Development as Key to Peirce's Semiotics — 235

The Mazes of the Development of Peirce's Semiotics — 235

The Birth of Peirce's Semiotics—The 1860s — 238

From Semiotics to Pragmatism—The 1870s — 240

The Johns Hopkins Years—The 1880s —	241
How To Reason—Early 1990s —	243
Grammatica Speculativa—Late 1890s —	245
The First Reform: Six Signs—1902 —	248
The Second Reform: Ten Signs—1903 —	250
The Third Reform: Twenty-Eight or Sixty-Six Signs—1904 – 1908 —	254
Semiotics in the World —	259

Chapter 15

Blocking Evil Infinites

A Note on a Note on a Peircean Strategy — 261

Schlechte Unendlichkeit — 261

Nota Notae — 262

Chapter 16

Peirce and Cassirer—The Kroisean Connection

Vistas and Open Issues in John Krois' Philosophical Semiotics — 264

Sign Categorizations and Basic Phenomena — 265

Pragmatism and Embodiment — 265

Images and Symbolic Pregnancy — 266

Semiotic Evolution — 267

Embodiment as Extended Mind — 269

The Krois Perspective — 270

Chapter 17

The Riddle of Dependences

How to Connect Entities across Pragmatism, Phenomenology, and Structuralism — 272

Husserlian Dependences — 273

Peircean Distinctions — 275

Hjelmslevian Dependences — 278

Ingardenian Dependences — 286

A Metalanguage of Dependences — 289

Chapter 18

Conscious Self-Control as Criterion for Reasoning — 291

Peirce's Doctrine of Consciousness — 292

Consciousness and Unconscious Mind — 295

The Self of Self-Control — 298

Self-Control and Reasoning —	301
Ethics and Logical Self-Control —	302
Self-Control: Inhibitory or Creative? —	304
The Self-Control Process —	307
Levels of Self-Control and Hypostatic Abstraction —	312
Machine and Animal Counterexamples —	315
The Role of Consciousness in Self-Control —	321
Windows and Freedom —	324

Chapter 19

Limited Individuals and Unlimited Aims

Peirce's Philosophical Anthropology — 328

Man, a Sign —	329
Limited Individuals with Unlimited ideals —	333
“Great Men” —	337
1880s–1890s: Biological Instinct and Objective Idealism —	340
From Anthropomorphism to the Celebration of Error —	345
Human Participation in Creation —	350
Humans, Aliens, and Purposes of the Universe —	355
Security, Uberty, and Humanity —	357
The Human Predicament —	358
