Shock and Vibration

Shock and Vibration Control – Crashworthiness – Structural Dynamics – Impact Engineering – Sound

Impact Factor: 0,26

Announcing a new Editor-in-Chief: Mehdi Ahmadian, PhD

Aims and Scope

The intention of the journal Shock and Vibration is to provide a source for the publication of original, archival articles on shock, vibration, sound, structural dynamics, biodynamics, crashworthiness, earthquake engineering, gun dynamics, vehicle dynamics and dynamics and vibration performance of civil, mechanical and aerospace engineering structures. Among the specific areas to be covered are vibration measurements, testing and control, vibration condition monitoring and structural health monitoring, shock hardening, modal testing technology, shock testing, data acquisition, fluid-structure interaction, isolation, noise generation and control, damping, statistical energy analysis, identification (inverse) problems, impact biodynamics, vehicle dynamics, gun dynamics, crashworthiness and vibration serviceability in civil engineering structures. Contributions can cover computational, analytical, and/or experimental technology related to the general area of shock and vibration.

New: Shock and Vibration Pre-Press Service

Shortly after acceptance, SAV articles are republished online in unedited form on the IOS Press full-text journal website, well in advance of their final print and online form. Articles are assigned a unique DOI number, which makes them searchable and citable, significantly reducing the time it takes for critical discoveries to reach the research community.
